

DEMIMIES ARE AT SEA TODAY

Exciting Scenes at the National Democratic Convention—Nothing Definite Yet.

Committee is on the platform and the credentials will not be ready to report until this afternoon.
Convention adjourned until 2 o'clock this afternoon.

Afternoon Meeting
Bryan's entrance to hall causes tremendous and prolonged applause. The reception being tendered Bryan is something remarkable and the applause grows greater every moment. Delegates and visitors join; everybody on their feet.

The Georgia delegation waving Parker banner, the only one displayed in convention.

Session in Detail
St. Louis, July 7.—The convention was called to order at 10:12. The crowds began flocking to the Coliseum early this morning for the second session of the national democratic convention. The reports of committees, several of which involved strenuous rights of the fight, are to be presented today, including the announcement of the proposed platform of the party. When the latter is reported it will be accompanied by a minority report prepared by Bryan and an interesting contest is expected to occur on the floor. Naturally there was an air of suppressed excitement among the delegates which became communicated to the galleries. The hall was in place at nine and played various selections as the convention assembled. The galleries filled more quickly than the floor. Many delegates had been sitting all night on committees and took their time upon reaching the hall. The Michigan delegation, which was deprived of seats yesterday arrived early. It was ten minutes before temporary Chairman Williams appeared. There was no demonstration as the crowd apparently did not recognize him. However, when he rapped for order two minutes later the delegates gave him an ovation.

The Business
Archbishop John B. Glennon of St. Louis offered the prayer, which took just a minute to deliver. The report of the committee on rules was then presented to the convention. The announcement of the committee had given the delegates of Porto Rico votes in the convention was received with cheers. An amendment to give the same right to the Philippines was offered and cheered. A debate followed. Chairman Grady of New York of the rules committee stated the supreme court had recognized Porto Rico as a part of the United States, but had not done so in the case of the Philippines. This was the reason for the action of the committee. The report of the committee was then adopted. The head of the Porto Rico delegation, Senator Molina, then proceeded to the platform and addressed the convention. The minority report in the Illinois contest was not ready at 10:50 and the credentials committee agreed to give Bryan further time to complete it. At 10:52 it was announced the report of the committee on permanent organization was not ready and the members were called for another meeting. The credentials committee announced it would not be ready to report until two o'clock. Success until two o'clock. It was carried.

Parker is Certain
In all probability Parker is to be the presidential nominee of the convention. It seems impossible that any more anti-Parkerites can checkmate the generalship of the Parker managers. It is likely the nomination will be made on the first ballot, and that the ballot will be taken Friday unless the program is changed and it is forced late this afternoon. The New Jersey delegation had a protracted session this morning and decided to give its twenty-four votes for Parker but reserved the right to vote for Cleveland any time it sees an opportunity to do so. Cleveland's name will not be formally presented in accordance with his wishes expressed in a letter yesterday.

Chose Clark Chairman
St. Louis, July 7.—Congressman Champ Clark of Missouri was unanimously the choice of the committee on permanent organization at the meeting this morning for the choice of the permanent chairman of the convention.

TWO BOYS ARE BURNED TO DEATH BY LIVE WIRE

Eleven-Year-Old Lad Goes to Rescue His Companion and Both Succumb to Electrocution.

[Special by Scripps-Mellae.]
Chicago, July 7.—In view of hundreds of persons who were standing on the platform at the Center street station of the Northwestern elevated line, Anton Ceskoski, 151 Düssel street, and Eugene Goethe, 155 Center street, both 11 years old, were electrocuted by a heavily charged electric light wire.
The boys had obtained the consent of their parents to go fishing and had made all preparations save digging earth worms for bait. About 7 o'clock at night the Goethe boy came over to Ceskoski's home and they went into the garden to dig bait.
After getting all the worms they needed for their fishing the boy started home. Ceskoski, seeing an electric light wire hanging down in the alley, took hold of it. In an instant he screamed: "Help me, Eugene; I am burning to death." Although the people who were standing on the "L" station cried to Goethe to stay away, he grasped Ceskoski and both fell to the ground, screaming. When help arrived Ceskoski was dead, all his fingers being burned off and his body burned. But Goethe was still alive. The ambulance was called, but Goethe died while en route to the hospital.

ASYLUM ATTENDANTS LEAVE POSTS OF DUTY
Union Members Demand Reinstatement of Discharged Man and Insist on Immediate Answer.
Elgin, Ill., July 5.—Declaring the laws of their union would be broken unless they decided to strike to force Superintendent Whitman to re-employ a man who was discharged for fighting while on duty in one of the wards of the Northern Illinois hospital for insane, eighteen attendants at this institution left their posts of duty Wednesday morning, without giving officials time in which to provide substitutes.
A. M. Mitchell, formerly of New York, was the man discharged. Officers of the attendants' union approached the superintendent with a demand that the discharged man be reinstated. Upon Whitman's reply that he would investigate the matter the delegation demanded an immediate answer.
For a time there were wild scenes of disorder in several wards. Extra men were called upon for duty and soon quiet was restored. Trouble was most pronounced in wards where maniacs of the most vicious class are confined. Even among members of the attendants' union at the hospital the action of the twenty employees was severely criticised. It is known, however, that the officers are planning to call a more general strike unless Mr. Whitman complies with their demand.

HAS BRYAN HIRED HALL?

It Is Thought That the Nebraskan Is Preparing for Bolt.
Indianapolis, Ind., July 7.—Has William Jennings Bryan obtained the option for the use of Tomlinson hall for July 20, 21 and 22?
A few things are coming to light today that indicate that the prohibitionists are figuring on a split of the democrats at St. Louis, the resignation of Swallow from the head of their ticket and a possible alliance with the Bryan element of the democratic party, and that Tomlinson hall has been reserved for the three days on the possibility of these things coming to pass.

Bryan and State Chairman of the Prohibitionists Newlin are good friends, and it is thought by some that the Nebraska man, foreseeing a split, is getting ready for a dissenters' convention in Indianapolis—one that might have no connection with the prohibition movement and affairs—and that in order to throw off suspicion at this time he had Newlin do a favor for him in arranging for an option on the convention hall.

Newlin, after maintaining a mysterious silence for twenty-four hours was asked to explain the mystery. "I have positively nothing to say—I can say nothing before Friday," he said.

"Well, Mr. Newlin, you have been in correspondence with Mr. Bryan, haven't you?"
"I have nothing to say," he replied but after a short silence he said he had written to Bryan several times and had received letters from him but he did not indicate whether or not that was recently.

FLAMES RUIN COSTLY JEWELS

Cammack Cottage Fire Causes More Than $1,000,000 Loss.

New York, July 7.—In the fire which destroyed the Cammack cottage at Tuxedo Park, N. Y., the jewels of Mrs. Bernard P. Newman of New Orleans, worth several hundred thousand dollars, were probably so damaged that they will be worthless hereafter. The cottage alone was valued at nearly $1,000,000. It was one of the handsomest in the exclusive section of Tuxedo.

Famous Henley Races Were Held Today—Leander Rowing Club Wins First Place.

[Special by Scripps-Mellae.]
Henley, England, July 7.—L. F. Scholes of the Don Rowing club, Toronto, won the diamond sculls at the regatta today, defeating A. H. Clouston of the London Rowing club by 1 1/4 lengths. The time was eight minutes and twenty-three seconds. The final challenge cup was won by the Leander Rowing club over the New College, Oxford, crew by a length. The time was seven minutes and twenty seconds.

CLEVELAND KEEPS MUM.

Refuses to Discuss Demonstration at National Convention.
Buzsard's Bay, Mass., July 7.—Former President Cleveland did not go to Sandwich, N. H., today, as scheduled, to join his family, but remains the guest of Joseph Jefferson at Crow's Nest. The conditions were so perfect for fishing that Mr. Cleveland admitted he could not get up courage to leave.

On returning from fishing Mr. Cleveland learned of the demonstration which followed the mention of his name by Congressman Williams, but refused to make any comment and showed in other ways that he was not worrying over the doings of the national convention. Mr. Cleveland would not say definitely when he would leave for New Hampshire, but intimated that it would probably be tomorrow.

SPARKS FROM THE WIRES

The second interstate convention of the United Mineworkers of the three northwestern districts, Nos. 14, 21 and 25, has convened in Pittsburgh, Kan.

The chamber of commerce in Port au Prince, Hayti, voted unanimously to censure Minister of Finance Bignon for mismanagement of public finances. Minister Bignon offered his resignation, but President Nord refused to accept it, declaring that the minister still had his confidence.

Dr. Nicholas Senn, the famous Chicago surgeon, arrived in San Francisco from the orient on his way to St. Louis.

Secretary of State John Hay, who is to be the orator of the day at the Jackson celebration, arrived in Detroit. He joined Senator Fairbanks at Senator Alger's residence.

Miss Eliza Whitaker, one of the sisters of the famous Whitaker family of swimmers, who has been teaching swimming at the Milwaukee Athletic club for the past year or two, left for Harvard college to teach swimming to the young women there.

Italian Ambassador to the United States Baron Mayer Des Planches and the Baroness Des Planches and Salvador A. Pratt, Spanish commissioner to the St. Louis exposition, arrived in New York on the steamship Kaiser Wilhelm II. from Bremen. A party of Austrian officials and a couple of German army officers on their way to the world's fair also arrived.

Girl Aeronaut Falls From Burning Balloon.
Bridgeport, Conn., July 7.—In a burning balloon, with a parachute that would not open, hanging limply to her car, Miss Carrie Meyers, the 19-year-old daughter of one of the most prominent residents of Fairfield, fell 400 feet. When the hundreds who saw her plunge headlong down into a tall tree ran to her they were surprised to find that the girl was suffering only from external bruises and the shock.

Ballooning is a fall with Miss Meyers. Her father has ample means to permit her to indulge in her whim. She appeared cool and self-possessed when she stepped into the car, and after the big bag had been filled with gas the ropes which held her to the ground were severed and in a moment she was high in the air.

As the car rose someone in the crowd shouted: "It's on fire!"
In some way a spark had caught in the oil feed of the balloon, and as the wind fanned it to a blaze it worked steadily downward toward Miss Meyers. She attempted to release the parachute, but could not budge it, and when she had risen 400 feet in the air the balloon started to fall, a mass of flames.

BRISK DOINGS BY RUSSIANS

Waken to the Fact That Japanese Are Defeating Them in Time To Save Themselves.

NAVAL BATTLE REPORTED TODAY

Claim Is Made That the Japs Lost Heavily in Their Last Encounter with the Russians—Fighting Has Been Going on for Two Days.

[Special by Scripps-Mellae.]
London, July 7.—The Liao Yang correspondent of the London Telegraph cables that a battle is proceeding twenty-five miles south of that position. The engagement, he says, is a severe one, judging from the number of wounded that are being brought in. The correspondent declares that the fighting has been going on for two days.
Chefoo, July 7.—Heavy reinforcements have been received by the Japanese in front of Port Arthur. A full division has been landed at Dalny from Japan and sent to the front and another division has come down from Okinawa in the north.

This is taken to mean that the final effort to take Port Arthur is at hand. It is said that Marshal Oyama and Gen. Kogima were with the troops recently arrived from Japan and that they will direct the final assault. The positions which the Japanese have taken on the hills about Port Arthur are being strengthened and new guns are constantly being mounted.

Stories of more fighting at sea come to hand from incoming ships. They do not tell what ships have been engaged or the result of the fighting.
Kuroki Ready to Strike
Tokio, July 7.—The war council is thoroughly well satisfied with the situation in Manchuria. The Japanese army is in splendid shape and full of enthusiasm and confident of crushing Kuroki. The rear of the army investing Port Arthur has been made perfectly secure from attack, while Kuroki is in a position to strike the Russian base and line of retreat as soon as his arrangements have been completed and his troops have come up.

Nodzu's army to the east of Hail Cheng gives Kuroki's line of communication perfect protection and can send him heavy reinforcements, if they are needed.

Lao Yang Attack Begins
Shan Hai Kwan, July 7.—Reports reach here today that the Japanese attack on Liao Yang has begun. The Japanese, it is said, are attacking in two columns, one from the south along the main Peking road, and the other from the northeast of the road from Penhsu. The result of the fighting is not known, but it is known that Kuroki is rushing reinforcements north from Hail Cheng.

It is also reported that there has been some hard fighting to the south of Hail Cheng.

Land Fighting
London, July 7.—The Central News reports a fight between Russian troops under General Kashatinsky and a force of Japanese near Lan Tyanas. The Russians made a sudden attack in the darkness and pouring rain on the Japanese outposts. The Japanese casualties are reported as a thousand. Strong Japanese reinforcements came to the aid of the Japanese but were twice repulsed. Finally the Japanese made a flank movement and the Russians narrowly escaped, being surrounded. The Russian reinforcement aid came and the czar's forces were enabled to retire. The Russian casualties were three hundred.

Will Lay Many New Rails Soon
Northwestern Road Is To Improve Its Line Through Beloit Very Shortly.

New rails of the latest pattern through the city of Beloit, gravel from the Beloit pit for the whole division from Winona to Belvidere—these are improvements planned by the Northwestern road that will keep a good sized gang of workmen busy during the rest of the summer.

Assistant Superintendent S. H. Brown of Baraboo said this morning that the company would have the steam shovel at work in the Beloit pit within a few days. He said it was the purpose of the company to get the ballasting of the track on the whole division, if not further, in first class shape. The gravel for this purpose will all be taken from the Beloit pit, and during the coming months train loads of gravel will be the common sight.

The greatest activity along the line, however, will be between Afton and Roscoe, where the old track will be entirely replaced. The steel now used was laid nearly twenty years ago, and is not considered heavy enough for the business carried on. Nearly all the track on the division has been replaced with modern rails, but this strip remains. Mr. Brown said this morning that it was the intention to relay this track and get it well ballasted before the end of the summer.

GIRL AERONAUT FALLS FROM BURNING BALLOON
Plunges Into Tall Tree and Escapes With Slight Bruises, When Parachute Refuses to Open.

Bridgeport, Conn., July 7.—In a burning balloon, with a parachute that would not open, hanging limply to her car, Miss Carrie Meyers, the 19-year-old daughter of one of the most prominent residents of Fairfield, fell 400 feet. When the hundreds who saw her plunge headlong down into a tall tree ran to her they were surprised to find that the girl was suffering only from external bruises and the shock.

Ballooning is a fall with Miss Meyers. Her father has ample means to permit her to indulge in her whim. She appeared cool and self-possessed when she stepped into the car, and after the big bag had been filled with gas the ropes which held her to the ground were severed and in a moment she was high in the air.

As the car rose someone in the crowd shouted: "It's on fire!"
In some way a spark had caught in the oil feed of the balloon, and as the wind fanned it to a blaze it worked steadily downward toward Miss Meyers. She attempted to release the parachute, but could not budge it, and when she had risen 400 feet in the air the balloon started to fall, a mass of flames.

Not Disbanded
The republican headquarters have not been closed nor have the men who have been brought together for the purpose of propagating the cause of true republicanism become disheartened and disbanded. This is the idea that the La Follette leaders would have people believe, but the facts are far different.

The first rush of the campaign is now over and for some weeks to come the work will not require as many men in the different bureaus as formerly and the forces have been reduced temporarily until the actual fall campaign work begins. The talk of lack of funds is laughed at by men who are handling the finance end of the work and when the work opens up it will not close until after election. Of course the republicans not having control of the state administration are not able to commend the services of the clerks who are paid by the state for work other than campaign work, but there are enough men in the Milwaukee headquarters to keep the administration forces hustling to think up new theories as to what is being done.

The Democrats
It is hinted in reliable sources that George W. Peck is not going to have a walk-away at the democratic state convention and that Robert D. Kirkland of Jefferson, the home county of ex-Governor Hoard, is slated for serious consideration. This leaves Jones of Madison and Neal Brown of Wausau out of the race entirely. Just how this will please the old line democrats is not known. It certainly will be the choice of the Rose element of the party, as they are the ones who are booming Mr. Kirkland. Reports come from St. Louis that the question has been taken up in the caucuses there and that the national delegates are as a unit for the Jefferson man.

State Fight
The democratic leaders who have given the matter any consideration are confident of winning this fall if they place the right ticket in the field. Supported by the Daily News they are fighting La Follette and his crusade of proselyting the democratic voters to his standard. The Daily News almost daily makes some exposure of the so-called cause for "God's patient poor." If half they say is actually true La Follette men are sparing no efforts to help their cause along by any method available. However, the thinking men of both the republican and democratic parties are waiting for the decision of the supreme court before taking any definite steps. I would not be surprised to see the nomination of the democratic standard bearer put off until after the decision is handed down and I am certain many of the democratic leaders feel the same way.

ALL TALK OF LET UP HAS LITTLE BASIS OF TRUTH
Political Interest Is Not Waning—The Republican Headquarters Is Still a Very Busy Place.

[Special A. D. Dispatch.]
Milwaukee, Wis., July 7.—Hon. Samuel Cook, candidate for governor on the republican ticket—the ticket recognized by the national republican convention, was in the city yesterday. He expressed himself as confident of a victory in the supreme court when the claims of the convention that nominated him are presented and hoped that such a decision would be given early in the fall. He was in Milwaukee on his way home from Madison and while he met and talked with many personal friends and leaders of the republican party and gave some interviews, he evaded the political situation very judiciously and left the administration leaders who had sent scouts to report, at sea as to what was really being planned. At present these same leaders are grasping at every straw in the hopes of finding some repudiation of the Cook cause either by Mr. Cook or his followers without results.

BEAUTIFUL VENICE--HOME OF THE IMPERIAL DODGES

Miss Gertrude Eager Writes From the Magnificent Italian City--Tells of the Marvels of the Past.

Weggen, Switzerland, June 23, 1904.
(Special correspondence to the Gazette.)

The last week has been so crowded with packing and unpacking, constant moving by train, diligence, steambath and railway train that when evening came there was no strength left for letter writing, but with all we vote it the pleasantest week of the trip. Before launching into its pleasure something out to be said about Venice, which, although a bit disappointing, still is perfectly charming and grows upon one during a visit. St. Mark's square is the center of all Venetian life and it behooves one to arrange for a hotel near to it and on the Grand Canal, for the weather was very warm in Venice even though it was June and the narrow streets and the tiny ways back of the canal do not give a chance for fresh air to circulate freely and it is extremely close and "smelly" as we say. Garlic and cheese do combine splendidly into a strong odor of which garlic gives a good way. St. Mark's church is truly marvelous and its floor is of exquisite patterns in mosaics, but is very uneven, owing to the fact that the brick arches which supported it have fallen away and only the wooden pillars, now turned to stone from the action of the salt water below, support it. Indeed, one has a feeling about many of these grand old buildings that they, like the campanile which fell in total ruin in 1902, might totter to the ground with a crash. The church is wonderfully ornamented on the exterior, the famous lions of St. Mark and some old Egyptian prophetic figures at one corner are pointed out especially, and on the interior are pillars from Solomon's temple and other interesting relics. Four bronze horses over the door outside have a wonderful history as spoils of war. This church forms one end of a hollow square, on one side is the royal palace and the library and the other two sides are shops with rooms above three stories high, and in this square hundreds of doves are constantly being fed as they have been for years and years and some one is always having a picture taken with them in their hands and on their shoulders. There is a wonderful clock here, too. It has an immense blue dial and on top of the clock, which also forms the roof of a building, are two figures of men with hammers and at the hour these figures strike a large bell. During May a little procession comes out and marches every hour also. There is not a horse or carriage in Venice so that nothing more than splash of cars or hum of voices disturbs one. The Venetians love music and each evening from 8:30 to 10:30 a band plays in this square and one enjoys sitting in front of Florio's restaurant and eating ice and listening and watching the exciting throng.

Some of the paintings and many of "Tintoretto's" and of the two Bonifacio's are enjoyed at the Academy delle arti and at the Doge's palace, the most famous and artistic building in Venice except St. Mark's, are many fine works of art. One of the finest paintings in Venice, however, is of Saint Barbara, which is in an old church, Santa Maria Formosa. At the Frari church is an exquisite Madonna by Bellini, dated 1488 and in this church are the tombs of Canova and Titian.

There are several interesting trips by boat from Venice. One day we went to Lido, a small island where Burano lace is made and where girls from ten to thirty years of age are employed constantly making this exquisite lace by hand. From this island to another, Torcello, but a few miles away, here a cathedral was completed over a hundred years before the founding of Venice in about 750 A. D. There is an interesting ancient church with a bell tower and an old bridge. Only 120 people inhabit the island at present. At Burano the people are shockingly poor and beggars beseeched us at every turn and by stretching out ones hands at least twenty children could be touched. Each child wished a soldo and many turned hand springs and smiled sweetly or looked his distress, felled or otherwise, and boys followed us to our boat, quickly pulled off half their clothes and did stunts in the water for coppers. Lace making seemed to be the only means of livelihood. Fifty per cent. of Italians neither read or write and it was easily believed here. Chioggia is an island eight miles from Venice and is a typical fish and hamper. The hard-fanned fishermen with their phlox, the women with short full skirts and queer bodices, knitting, making lace or fish nets or washing, for it was Monday, and the black hulled fishing smacks with orange colored sails on many of which were several decks, such as hearts and arrows and horses, made one curious never-to-be-forgotten picture, something unique indeed. We have been so interested in the methods of washing clothes over here. These women of Chioggia carried great wooden buckets of water into the alleys by their front doors and after emptying it into a tub which is always on the floor or pavement, they bend over and supporting a wooden board with their bodies, poured the soaped clothes up and down on the board, occasionally giving them a dash into the tub. The Naples women do the same thing except that they use a smooth, thin stone instead of the board. Around the lakes and along the mountain streams the washing is all done on the shore. The women kneel and in a very laborious way soap and wring and pound the clothes clean. Venice is built on something like half a hundred islands and there are so many bridges connecting them that one can almost walk everywhere. The Rialto bridge has been the chief bridge in the commercial part of the city and the Bridge of Sighs connecting the Doge's Palace with the prisons has its own legends. Small steamers ply up and down the Grand Canal and for two cents one can ride the whole length of it, but if one has time one prefers the gondola. Venice is ideal to sit in a gondola and enjoy the "poetry of motion" watch the glimmering lights with their long streaming reflections in the water, think of the history and the poetry and the heroism of Venice and the Venetians and meanwhile listen to a concert which is being given by bands of musicians who are seated in a large hung with Japanese lanterns and wao to the accompaniment of guitars and violins for our entertainment. By and by fifty gondolas gather about this improvised platform and soon a man with a hat passes from one gondola to another, one drops in a copper and listens on and on or glides down stream to another similar concert, or if one wishes, still further on the canal passing the House of Desdemona, the house where Wagner died, or under the Rialto where Shylock made his bargains. Water colors, handsomely carved and painted leather goods, lace and jewelry are the chief attractions of the shops. One leaves Venice with regret but we planned to join the young ladies, one from Milwaukee and one from Oak Park, Ill., at Bellagio, so we spent twenty-four hours in Milan viewing its cathedral and seeing at the church Santa Maria Graziosa the Vines' famous "Last Supper," which is badly preserved, however. This Milan cathedral is ornamented beyond comprehension to say nothing of description. It will contain 40,000 people and has on its exterior 2,000 carved figures, almost all of marble, its stained glass windows are marvelously beautiful and some of them are said to be the largest in the world. We entered the cathedral when the sun was setting and the light streamed in resting upon a beautiful crucifix in bronze suspended from the dome and I have never seen anything more beautiful nor inspiring. Israel Zangwill in a recent magazine article says he marvels at two things—the constant flow of the Niagara river at the falls and the never ceasing prayers in the Catholic church, and we have never enjoyed a church morning, afternoon or evening, but some one is praying.

From Milan our journey through the Italian lakes, the Alps and the Swiss lakes, began. Como on Lake Como is two hours from Milan. We had a short ride by steamer from Como to Bellagio and rested there until the following day. It is a tiny town at the foot of the hills on the edge of the lake and is the most beautiful spot on the shores of Lake Como. One eats ones breakfast in a garden by the shore and enjoys the cool breeze. We crossed the lake, which is very narrow, to Menaggio, took the train through the mountains and by steamer to a town called Portofino and here we said farewell to Italy, though it seemed as though we had been in Switzerland some time because of the mountains. At Portofino one has a ride on Lake Lugano to a town called also Lugano and then by train one journeys on to Lino on still another lake called Maggiore, larger than Como or Lugano, by boat to Pallanza where the night is spent. The short trips were perfect delights and we begrudged every moment as it passed. At Pallanza we took the diligence and rode to Gratiella through a pretty valley where men were working getting out granite from the mountain sides and another short trip brought us to Domio, a town where another night was spent. June 26, the real diligence ride commenced, for we started at 6:30 a. m. for the mountains by the St. Gotthard tunnel and pass we chose to coach over the Grimsel pass. Leaving Domodossola at 6:30 we drove up and up winding roads over the road Napoleon laid out in 1800 to 1805, to the Stimplen Pass. At the summit, 6,000 feet above sea level, we had our lunch, and put on a wrap for it was cool, though not cold. We were away above timber line and drove among the snow capped peaks of the snow-capped peaks of the Fieschhorn and the Schönbühl were near us, and by mountain streams. Night found us at Brig, where the early two were up and away at 6:30, having five horses up our coach, bells forever ringing and our driver who would crack his long whip on every occasion. On this day we climbed even higher, following all the forenoon the Rhone river until finally we reached the Rhone Glacier where the river gets its start. We had lunch at the Hotel Rhone Glacier and four of our six took seats in the diligence and rode to Grimsel Pass and down to Aarberg where evening reaching there at 8 p. m. extremely weary. Two of us who couldn't obtain seats in the coach walked up the mountains to Grimsel Pass, down to Handegg Falls, a most peaceful, quite spot, and the trip in five hours. There we staid all night and joined the party the next day at Aarberg, having taken the morning diligence from Handegg Falls.

At the top of the mountain called Grimsel there is a lake of ice with peaks snow-capped about it. Here it was cold, we were glad to put on heavy wraps as we walked between banks of snow and ice. A bit lower down is Grimsel Lake, dark green in color, at one end of which is Grimsel Hotel. This lake lies in a black barren basin with purple gray rocks all around it, a most desolate and grim and gruesome place. We were glad to press on down the valley at Handegg Falls. After joining our party and resting we visited the gorge of the Aare river, the most wonderful gorge in Switzerland and I think in all Europe, took a train to Brienz, crossed Lake Brienz to Interlaken and instead of remaining there we chose to come to this quiet mountain town of Swiss Chalets, called Weggen. It is cool here and perfectly delightful. From this balcony snow-capped mountains sending down little streams of water and fleecy clouds hanging over all are all about and below is one of the loveliest valleys I've ever seen. The men and women are making hay on the mountain side and every man and every woman is rosy-cheeked and robust and prosperous looking, so different from the Italian peasants and poor people. We are pleased with the ease with which we can travel. At Interlaken 20 busses met our train, but the twenty men with hotel bands on their hats stood in front of us, not one approached or said one word until we asked one of them a question. Then he touches his hat and is all attention. They must keep at a distance. It is so different from American cities when five or ten men are screaming and grabbing one's baggage and pointing in every direction.

ROSEBUD'S RUSH FOR LAND IS ON

Thousands Are Registering for the Choice Bits of the Indian Reservation.

Honolulu, S. D., July 7.—The big rush for registration for claims on the Rosebud reservation is now on. We arrived here last night but before sunrise Tuesday the crowds were lined up for several blocks before the places for registration.

James Barnes, of Elmore, O., was the first man to register. He was in line all night. The first woman to register was Miss Jennie Conway of Omaha.

There are two places of registration, where the women and old soldiers are registering. In an hour and a half 400 had registered. Those who have registered are starting out in automobiles and other pleasure conveyances to visit the reservation. About 1,000 are still in line.

Notaries in Lively War.

The notaries are indulging in a lively war for business, and booths containing them are found on every corner. Reports from Fairfax say that few are registering there.

Registration papers may be thrown out in a number of cases because notaries filled them out and sealed them before midnight. Commissioner Richards says he expects there will be many contests, as in the case of the Oklahoma opening. He has devised a scheme of preventing them in a measure.

All contests will be first passed on at the general land office, and unless there are good grounds they will be thrown out. This will prevent blackmailing, as has occurred in the Oklahoma district, where several cases are still in court.

OUTLOOK IS FOR EXCELLENT CROPS

Farmers Say All They Now Want is Good Warm Weather—Big Tobacco Crop.

Notwithstanding the fact that the past few days have been warm and sunny, the evenings have been cool, and this weather is not the most desirable for corn, so said a farmer this morning.

"Corn is backward so far" (meaning not up to the average growth at this time of the year), said the ruralist, who was well tanned from outdoor work. He states that the corn is badly in need of a spell of steady heat. He says the hay crop gives promise of being a big one. Plenty of moisture early this spring gave it a splendid start, and not requiring any great amount of specially hot sunshine, it is doing nicely.

Tobacco Outlook Good.

The farmer's prediction that the tobacco yield is going to be a corker will undoubtedly be welcome news to Janesville tobacco growers. He says that most all the farmers have set out their tobacco plants. It will not be definitely known much before the early part of August how big this year's tobacco yield will be.

Plenty of Milk.

The pastures on farms near Janesville are reported in fine condition. This means plenty of good milk, cheese and butter. It is an old saying that cows give milk through their mouths, meaning that when pastures furnish them plenty of feed they give milk accordingly.

Horses High.

Fair draft horses can be purchased at from $50 to $100, but a perfectly sound animal will bring its owner $200. Compared with prices offered and accepted for draft horses six years ago these figures show that the big members of the equine family have increased in value. Then they could be bought, the very best of them, for about $120 per head.

Automobiles or no automobiles, the day will probably never come when the services of a good horse will cease to be of value.

About Grain.

Will flour be cheaper next winter? All household buyers hope so. It depends upon the amount of wheat the west can produce. If the yield is a big one, flour will be cheap, or vice versa.

SHAKING UP THE TRAIN CONDUCTOR

Northwestern Road Issues New Orders Regarding Many of the Passenger Runs.

Passenger conductors on the Madison and Wisconsin divisions of the Northwestern line are considerably exercised over the recent change in runs. Eleven crews, six from the Madison division and five from the Wisconsin division, have been obliged to enter a pool, and in the future they will be run like freight crews—first in, first out. Three crews will run all passenger trains between Elroy and Winona, and the remaining eight crews will run all passenger trains between Chicago and Elroy. The new plan will do away with one crew as compared with the former number.

Since Monday conductors Marriott, Carpenter and Robbins have been in charge of trains between Elroy and Winona. Thos. A. Ward, who has been running between Elroy and Winona, has taken the late run of D. D. Waite between Madison and Janesville. As yet the old-time conductors on the "crossline" are in charge, but all the trains between Milwaukee and Lancaster have been bulletined.

If the present plan becomes permanent, says the Baraboo Democrat, it will work many hardships among the crews, especially to conductors, many of whom are thus prevented from being at their respective homes as usual. It will also be a loss to those who have spent years in established homes in any one of the cities at the end of runs. It will also to some extent lessen the number of the more desirable runs, which in the past have been given to the men who are oldest in point of service. The opinion has been given that the present plan will not be as satisfactory to either the men nor the company as the old plan, and since the saving to the company will be but a small amount and the service perhaps less satisfactory, it is thought the former conditions will be restored in the near future.

Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Dillenbeck are visiting their son Henry at Baraboo.

IMPROVEMENTS AT THE STATE CAPITOL

Portion Burned Out Is Now Nearly All Cleaned Up by the Corps of Workmen.

Madison.—(Special).—In the capitol building the sight of the bare and blackened walls is slowly being effaced by the plasterer's trowel and the brush of the painter. For weeks workmen have been steadily employed on the interior improvements, and a gradual transformation of the burned parts has taken place.

On the top story in the south wing, where the free library commission used to be, is a long, spacious room, the floor at present made only of sand, which will be used for the next session of senate and assembly. A large skylight aids in giving the coming legislative chamber plenty of light. The extreme height of the room from the ground floor will be an inconvenience for the many who will attend the session of the law-makers next winter.

A new elevator is now being installed in place of the old "lift" which was burned out during the first last February.

The walls of the renovated committee and office rooms appear brightly in a garb of yellow paint, as do all the corridors in the used parts of the building. Lew F. Porter is the architect in charge of the improvements, and Capt. McCoy of the capitol force is superintendent of labor.

Many changes in the location of offices have been found necessary. The railway commissioner's office is situated on the west side of the corridor on the second floor over the land office. The department of labor occupies rooms on the second floor and in the basement. The free library commission is still housed in the historical library building.

The office of General Bryant, superintendent of public property, which has occupied a store-room on Carroll street since the fire, was transferred last week to the capitol, and now is installed in the rooms on the first floor formerly used by the bank examiner. The G. A. R. memorial rooms are still housed in the American Thresherman block on Carroll street. The game warden's office is in the Alford block on North Carroll street. Charles McCarthy, legislative statistician, has his headquarters in the rooms of the railroad commissioner in the capitol.

The bank examiner's headquarters are in rooms over the "Hub," where they have been since the fire. The board of normal school regents is established in the Elsworth block, and the board of agriculture in the rooms of Welton & O'Neill on South Pinckney street. The new agricultural building at the university shelters the department of public instruction. The adjutant general is located in the Governor's Guard armory. Hon. J. Q. Emery, dairy and food commissioner, has offices over Klaunder's store on East Main street. Hon. Halford Erickson, of the department of labor and statistics, is located in the capitol, in rooms on the second floor, and in the basement.

Rooms are being fitted up as rapidly as possible to accommodate the departments which are still quartered in business blocks around the square.

GOVERNMENT SENT GOOD REPORT OUT

Weekly Resume of the Crops of the Whole Country Point to a Banner Year.

The weather in Illinois last week was cool, especially at night, according to the weekly report issued today by the government weather bureau. There were scattered light showers in the north and good rains in the central and southern part. Corn is growing slowly, except in the south, but is generally clean and some laid by oats are progressing. Wheat harvest is getting under way and the crop is fine in the south and good elsewhere; hay is good in the central and southern, but short in the northern parts. Fruit is reported poor.

In the late region and central valleys the week was unseasonably cool and unfavorable for rapid growth. In Nebraska and Kansas corn has grown well, but in the central and eastern portions of the corn belt growth has been slow as a result of cool weather. Winter wheat harvest has made slow progress in Missouri and Kansas, and damage to wheat in stock is reported from Missouri. Complaints of rust are also received from portions of Missouri and Kansas. In the northern portion of the spring wheat region, cool weather has checked rapid advancement of spring wheat, which, however, is generally doing well. The general outlook for oats is promising, but this crop has suffered from excessive moisture on low lands in Minnesota, and in portions of Missouri, Nebraska and Oklahoma.

WERE NOT CONVINCED OF YOUNG GIRL'S INSANITY

Physicians Who Examined Mary Peace Advised That She Be Placed in Hands of Friends.

Drs. Buckmaster and Merritt who late yesterday afternoon examined Miss Mary Peace the servant girl at the Hotel Myers who has been showing signs of mental infirmity since her arrival here, were not satisfied that the evidence of insanity was sufficient to commit her to an asylum and she will be placed in charge of friends.

ROCK RIVER COTTON CO. CLEANING UP

Workmen Straightening Up Machinery and Materials Damaged by Fire.

The work of cleaning up and saving what materials that were not damaged by fire at the Rock River Cotton company's plant was commenced in earnest by about twelve of the firm's workmen and all efforts on the part of the management will be made to save everything that might be of any possible use in the way of machinery and goods. Messrs. Howe Brothers, proprietors of the plant, have long been numbered among the most successful business men of Janesville and the fire of the morning of July Fourth was a serious loss to them both in a financial and business way. The firm are loud in their praises for the efficient work of Chief Klein and the Janesville fire department who did gallant work from the start to the finish of the fire, at no time during the fierce battle that swept through the entire building facing North Franklin street did the firemen flinch from their duty. Several times it looked as though the adjacent buildings were in danger of being consumed, but prompt and effective work on the part of the firemen soon had one of the hardest fought fires in Janesville under control. With the assistance of the fire steamer ten streams of water were playing on the fire twenty minutes after the alarm of fire was given. The company are ever ready to say a good word of the Janesville Fire department, which by their good work and prompt action saved them a loss of several thousand dollars. The fire insurance adjusters of the different companies in which the plant is insured are expected to arrive in the city today to adjust the amount of loss caused by fire.

VERDICT OF THE PARTY.

From the report of the Committee on Credentials to the REPUBLICAN NATIONAL CONVENTION, which was unanimously adopted by that convention, June 22, 1904.

Your committee report it to be their final judgment that the convention which elected said John G. Spooner, J. V. Quarles, J. W. Babcock and Emil Baensch as delegates at large, and their alternates at large, to this convention from the state of Wisconsin WAS THE REGULAR CONVENTION OF THE REPUBLICAN PARTY IN WISCONSIN, and that the delegates elected by it are the regular elected delegates at large from the state of Wisconsin to the republican convention, and, as such, are entitled to seats in this convention.

EXPORT TRADE.

Exports of manufactures in the fiscal year which ends today will be the largest in the history of our foreign commerce. A statement just issued by the Department of Commerce and Labor through its Bureau of Statistics shows that the total exports of manufactures for the eleven months ending with May, 1904, were $410,536,478, and as this sum is 17 million dollars in excess of the eleven months' figures for the year 1900, when manufactures made their high-water mark in exports, it seems perfectly safe to estimate that the total for the full year will be the largest in the history of our foreign commerce.

Comparing the exportations of manufactures for the eleven months for which figures are now available with those of the corresponding months of earlier years, it may be said that the total exports of manufactures in the eleven months ending with May, 1904, are practically twice as great as those for the corresponding months of 1890, two and a half times as great as in 1892, practically three times as great as in 1890, and more than three times as great as in 1888.

In the eleven months ending with May, 1888, the total exportation of manufactures was 120 millions; in 1890, 133 millions; in 1896, 206 millions; in 1900, the year of the largest exportation of manufactures prior to the one just ending, $393,089,574, and in 1901, $410,536,478. This increase in the exportation of manufactures occurs in nearly all classes of manufactures.

Comparing the export figures of 30 articles or groups of articles for the eleven months with May, 1904, with those of the corresponding months of 1900, the previous high record year in the exportation of manufactures, 23 of the number show an increase, while 7 fall slightly below the figures of 1900. Those which show a reduction as compared with 1900 are iron and steel, cotton manufactures, tobacco manufactures, cycles, glass and glassware, starch, and marble and stone manufactures. In iron and steel the total for eleven months ending with May, 1904, is 100 million dollars against 110 millions in the corresponding months of 1900; of cotton manufactures the total for eleven months ending with May, 1904, is 20 millions against 22 millions for the corresponding months of 1900; cycles, a decrease of about one and a half million dollars; glass and glassware, a reduction of less than 200 thousand dollars; starch, a reduction of a little over 1 million dollars, and marble and stone a drop of about 125 thousand dollars.

The great articles which show increases in the eleven months of 1904, compared with the corresponding months of 1900, are mineral oils, refined; copper manufactures; leather, and manufactures thereof; agricultural implements; chemicals; manufactures of wood; paper, and manufactures thereof; scientific instruments; cars and carriages; paraffin; India-rubber manufactures; books, maps, etc.; distilled spirits; musical instruments; clocks and watches; paints and colors; brass manufactures; gunpowder and other explosives; soap; wool manufactures, and jewelry.

Comparing the exports of the eleven months ending with May, 1904, with those of the corresponding months of 1900, leather manufactures show an increase of nearly 6 million dollars; agricultural implements, an increase of 6 1/2 millions; mineral oils, refined, an increase of about 2 millions; wood manufactures, an increase of nearly 2 millions; chemicals, drugs and dyes, an increase of 1 million dollars; scientific instruments, an increase of nearly 2 millions; cars and carriages, an increase of 2 1/2 millions; manufactures of fibres, nearly 2 millions; books, maps and engravings, over a million dollars; musical instruments, more than a million dollars; while in the other articles the increases range from 100 thousand dollars up to a million dollars.

A PLEA FOR THE "GOOD DOGS."

A physician of Cleveland estimates that every year 7,200 persons in that city have to seek medical treatment for dog bites. The statement seems almost incredible. If only a tenth of that number are bitten each year by dogs in Cleveland it certainly warrants the adoption of drastic measures for protecting the people from rabid curs.

In reply to this statement of a local physician the Cleveland Leader prints the following plea for "man's best friend":

How much money do dogs save by serving instead of watchmen? How much property do they guard against theft? How many Cleveland people are better in health because they enjoy dogs well enough to obtain from their canine friends pleasure which is a tonic and a safeguard against physical ills?

This is obviously a plea for "good dogs," and as such it will find a responsive note of sympathy in thousands of homes where the lives of children are made merry and glad by gentle and intelligent Scotch collies, water spaniels, Irish setters, St. Bernards, and other fine specimens of the canine family. These are the dogs that moved a certain famous writer to declare that the more he saw of men the better he liked dogs.

But the dog is a product of breeding, training and environment. If intelligently fed and cared for he becomes the loyal and never-failing friend of his master, the delightful and loving companion of children, responding gratefully to every caress and interpreting every wish, obedient, faithful and kind. But neglected, kicked about, poorly fed and thrown upon the world, he becomes a snarling, vicious, rabid cur, a menace to the community and very dangerous to little children.

This latter is the sort of cur that bites 7,200 people in Cleveland every year—the sort that endangers the people of any city and the sort from which the people must be protected. Because there are thousands of these running loose the muzzling ordinance should be rigidly enforced, not only for the protection of people but for the protection of well-bred, valuable dogs as well.

Is it possible that Grover's telegram which buzzed a good deal when his name brought forth such applause at the St. Louis convention?

Maybe Bryan will get mad and ask La Follette, his bosom friend, to join him in forming that much talked of third party.

Never mind the Free Press story about the closing of the republican headquarters. The Free Press is trying to comfort itself.

The democrats are always the same—awful howlers at conventions and on the stump, but awfully poor when the count comes.

Hearst's boom is described as having dwindled down to a grand and glorious drunk in the corridors of a St. Louis hotel.

Senator Teller, who bolted the republican convention at St. Louis in 1896, announces he likes Mr. Parker.

State politics are taking a rest for the active work of the coming late summer and fall.

Roosevelt is not worried over the result of the convention down at St. Louis.

Yellow Journalism can not accomplish everything.

Tammany does not like Mr. Hill evidently.

PRESS COMMENT.

Green Bay Gazette: Because politics become the leading topic of discussion among the students it is proposed by The La Crosse Leader-Press to remove the state university to some other location. Would it not be cheaper and much more satisfactory to remove the governor?

Chicago Chronicle: The prohibitionists will not be regret that their friend General Miles is at St. Louis electioneering with the people whom their chairman referred to as "uncaged hyenas."

Menasha Record: How passing strange. A La Follette chairman is asking for money. We had thought that a La Follette campaign was run on the strength of its own purity.

Exchange: It's funny how a woman will admit that her husband's hair is red, but figure out that their children's is golden.

Cincinnati Commercial Tribune: Mr. La Follette not only proposes to fill the last ditch, but to furnish the ditch and the occupants.

Chicago Record-Herald: Russell Sage is going to support the republican ticket, but he believes it can be elected without the expenditure of any money.

Menasha Citizen: The singing of "Bedella" stopped a fire panic in a Waukesha, Wis., theater the other night. But is there anything that will stop "Bedella?"

El Paso Herald: It is the men with the moustache who are running the republican party this time and the men with the beards are in the background.

Hudson Star-Times: If the republican party is as corrupt and corruption bound as the La Follette claim, why do they insist on clinging to it? If they are greater and better than the party why do they not flock by themselves, and give the republican party its own unmolested?

Whitewater Register: It is scarcely less than pathetic to see the earnestness with which the democrats are going into their convention at St. Louis. They are making all the motions which might be expected if they really thought anything would come of it all.

Merrill Advocate: The man who telephoned the elders in Zion city to pray for the recovery of his cow that was sick, made a mistake when he sent this message: "Stop praying; she is dead." The cow might have been only in a cataleptic state, or a trance or something, and if the man had let the elders keep on praying, she might have revived or even been resurrected. But when they stopped, why she just naturally stayed dead.

Baraboo Republican: If it is a sure elench that the stalwarts are wrong in everything they ever undertake or think of why doesn't the Milwaukee Free Press print something editorially besides reiterating the sanctity of the half-breed and cussing the stalwarts. The old woman who said when she "died" a nail she didn't keep on a "poundin'" evidently is not on the staff of that paper.

Chicago Chronicle: The residents of Chintown set off Roman candles, skyrockets and firecrackers on the night of the Fourth until the street was covered with spent firecrackers, red paper and other patriotic debris to the depth, it is stated, of nearly four inches. Probably we are to accept this as proof of the deep and enthusiastic love of our Chinese population for a country which denies them all political franchises and even citizenship and seeks to bar them out altogether.

La Crosse Chronicle: Whatever else happens at St. Louis next week there seems to be positive assurance that the democratic party will rid itself of Bryan forever. The most striking and encouraging development of the pre-convention campaign has been the revelation of the insignificant nature of the Bryan following. He has clearly "overstayed" his market.

La Crosse Leader-Press: The Wisconsin delegation might originally have been disposed to assist in the nomination of another candidate, but the success of Mr. Wall appeared impossible, but the impudent action of the Parker leaders has solidified the vote of this state for its own candidate and he will now receive it on every ballot until a nomination is made. The delegation contained five original Hearst men, but these five are now just as determined as the other twenty-one that Wisconsin shall stand solidly and steadily for Wall. Parker has lost whatever chance he ever had to get the Wisconsin vote.

Belvidere Northwestern: The opening of the Rosebud agency, S. D., has resulted in a wonderful rush to that locality. It is estimated that not less than 50,000 people will be camped there within the next few days. The land was open to inspection July 5, but the lottery drawing will not occur until the 20th. There will be about 2,000 quarter sections open to settlement, and the balance of the 50,000 entries are deemed to be disappointed. The railroads are already planning to take care of the disappointed, and turn their attention to the lands they have to offer. In this way many actual settlers may be secured, even though they failed to participate in what the government had to offer.

FULL FARE FOR ALL CORPSES

Western Passenger Association Is Taking Action on the Rate Now Existing.

When the Western Passenger association meets Monday at Houghton, Mich., it will take up the question of the charges to be made for transporting corpses. The general rule on western roads is to transport a corpse at the regular passenger rate, provided at least one person accompanies it and also has a ticket purchased at the regular rate. Unless somebody accompanies the corpse, the rule is not to carry it on a ticket, but require it to be shipped by express.

Many unpleasant complications have resulted in cases where persons traveling on round trip passes or half rate tickets died while en route or at one end of the journey. The friends have insisted that the body should be forwarded on the return coupon of the pass or half rate ticket, while the rules of the railroads required their agents to check corpses as baggage only when a regular full fare ticket was purchased for the corpse and at least one other regular ticket was bought by a person accompanying the body.

Now it is proposed to make an agreement binding on all the roads in the Western Passenger association that return coupons of passes or tickets sold at reduced rates, to clergy, men or others usually given reduced rates, shall not be accepted for the transportation of corpses.

Dinner Hour Worries Parisians. The Parisians are considering whether they ought to postpone the dinner hour still further from 9 to 10 o'clock or give up dinner altogether in favor of a substantial 5 o'clock tea and an after-theater supper.

SEEK SERVICE OF OUR MACHINISTS

Assistant Superintendent Yeomans of Link Belt Machine Co., Chicago, in Janesville to Hire Men.

Lucien I. Yeomans, assistant superintendent of the Link Belt Machine Co. of Chicago, is in the city to secure machinists to take the place of strikers who have not returned to their places in the Windy City. While he comes here primarily in the interests of his own factory, he represents nearly two hundred other concerns who have banded together to protect what they regard as their rights against the alleged unjust demands of the unions. The employers claim that for a number of years past it has been the custom just at this season for the workmen to formulate extravagant demands and declare strikes in about thirteen of the factories, those staying at their posts in the remainder supporting the strikers until the employers should be compelled to accede to their demands. This being a dull season in the machinery business the employers have united in a concerted effort to abolish these summer outbreaks. They have all insisted on individual contracts with the men and have taken steps in other directions to protect their interests. Men to work on lathes, planers, milling machines, etc., are wanted. Mr. Yeomans will meet with applicants for positions at the Myers house this evening.

A DIVORCE DECREE GRANTED MRS. KATH

It is Also Stipulated in Judgment That She is To Have Custody of Child and $900.

In circuit court yesterday afternoon a judgment for the plaintiff was handed down by Judge Dunwiddie in the action for divorce brought against Herman Kath, the South River street saloon-keeper, by his wife, Mellicia Kath. Besides granting the decree the judgment stipulates that defendant shall pay to the plaintiff the sum of $900 in money and that she shall have the household furniture excepting one bed, four chairs, a dresser, etc., and the custody of the five year old daughter, Nora. She is not to take the child out of Rock county, however, without an order of the court and the father is to be allowed to visit the child and take her out riding at reasonable times. The court found that the defendant had property valued at about $4,000 on which there was a mortgage amounting to $2,000. Mr. Kath was represented by Attorney W. G. Wheeler and J. J. Cunningham. His answer to the complaint was withdrawn. The plaintiff was represented by H. L. Maxfield.

CURRENT NEWS NOTES

Beets Look Fine: Edward Stark, representative of the Wisconsin Sugar Co., returned Tuesday from a brief visit in Menominee Falls. He says that the beet crop is looking fine and his company expects to have a fine harvest in Rock county this fall. Mr. Stark says that the farmers have all stood by their contracts and that it is the expectation that more will be secured for next year. He would not state how many acres were contracted for in this locality, but the total is believed to be a thousand or more.

To Incorporate Milton: An application has been filed in circuit court in order to incorporate the village of Milton. The signers are James P. Bullis, B. H. Wells, Ralph Richardson, Mark L. Brown, F. C. Dunn and Willis P. Clarke. The court is in readiness to hear objections to the proposed act until Friday, July 8.

Important Omission: In naming the committees who had charge of the fourth of July celebration the morning parade committee was unintentionally left out. These three men, C. K. Millmore, C. C. Clippen and E. T. Fish, did much to make this feature of the day's enjoyment one of the best exhibits ever held in the city.

For Lobster Dinner: A party consisting of W. H. Greenman, P. J. Mount, V. P. Richardson, Dr. Edden, H. S. Gilkey and Geo. Simpson left this morning over the interurban line for Rockford where they expected to enjoy a lobster dinner at a famous fish house.

To Racine in Eight Hours: Wallace S. McGregor, superintendent of the J. I. Case works, returned yesterday to Racine to resume his duties after spending a vacation of several weeks in Janesville. He was accompanied by Engineer Ed. Hayward of the North-Western road and despite the rain the trip was made in Mr. McGregor's automobile in eight hours.

Another Collection of Mail: The mail matter in boxes on the east and west side of the business district is collected by a carrier between the hours of six and seven in the evening.

King, et al, to Charles Heller lot 12 of Butler's addition to Janesville, consideration $125; Dennis R. Morrisey and wife to Theo. H. Ottman, the west one-half of lots 330 and 331 in Pense's second addition, consideration $2,500; Herman Kath to Michael Hueb the north one-third of lot 6, Smith, Bailey & Stone's addition, with 22 feet frontage on South River street, consideration $2,744.

CITIZEN SOLDIER READY FOR CAMP

The National Guard of Wisconsin Soon Go to Their State Encampment.

Preparations for the annual summer encampment of the Wisconsin National guard are occupying the office force at the headquarters of Adj. Gen. Boardman. The camp will be held in July, the second regiment going first, July 9 to 15; the first regiment and Troop A of the First Battalion July 16 to 23, and the Third regiment and 10th separate battalion July 23 to 29. No men enlisted after June 10, 1904, except in case of re-enlistments, will be brought to camp. In honor of the officer who formerly commanded the 2d Infantry, Wisconsin National Guard, the camp is named Camp Moore for this year.

AN OLD COUPLE SECURED DIVORCE

The Wife Was Sixty Four Years of Age, the Husband Sixty-Six—Deserted Ten Years.

Mary Hurley, aged sixty-four years, was granted a divorce from her husband, Allan Hurley aged sixty-six, by Judge Dunwiddie this past week. Mrs. Hurley secured her divorce through her attorney, John L. Fisher, on the grounds of desertion. She came from New York state for this purpose and returned there as soon as the decree was granted. The defendant lives in the town of Plymouth. Desertion for eleven years was the grounds the action was brought upon. The couple formerly lived at Newark. The defendant made no defense.

CHERRIES WILL SOON BE RIPE

Stores To Be Supplied with Home Grown Stock—Strawberries Nearing an End.

Strawberries, 90c and $1.00 a crate. Peaches, 35 cents a basket. Berries, 3 for 10 cents. Raspberries—3 bunches for 5 cents. Onions, 2 bunches for 5 cents. New Peas, 30 cents a peck. Lettuce, 3 bunches 10 cents. New Potatoes, 40 cents a peck. The cherry season will soon be in full swing. Perhaps within a week the first home grown stock will be ripe and placed on sale at the Janesville stores. W. W. Nash said yesterday that he expects them to be matured in a week. Farmers west of the city have a large number of cherry trees. Last year they secured 200 bushels. The cherries from the country fully supply the demands of both the market and the Janesville stores.

Those who are looking for cherries for canning purposes should go to the market man at once and place their orders. The late cherries are in better condition than the earlier ones, and there is every reason to believe that they will be in larger quantities, but the price may be a trifle higher. At present there are few cherries on the market. They are of poor quality.

Season Soon at End.
Not for several years was the home grown strawberry crop so satisfactory as this spring. The berries are large and plump in size and delicious in flavor. The season is now nearing the end and some growers are at a loss to know what to do with the over abundant stock still on hand. Yesterday afternoon a number of grocerymen refused to make purchases because they were well supplied. On account of the large crop Janesville men were able to enjoy this fruit at low cost.

Delicious Peaches.
Georgia peaches are fast making their appearance in store windows and readily attract the attention of those who relish this fruit. They are shipped in flat baskets and retail at 35 cents.

Home Grown Vegetables.
Among the recent additions in the line of vegetables are home grown peas. They sell at 30 cents a peck and make a nice side dish on the family table. Onions, beets and other vegetables are also plentiful.

Old Potatoes Nearly Gone.
The supply of old potatoes is nearly exhausted. They kept well, considering the fact that large quantities rotted last year. The new tubers are now rapidly taking the place of the 1903 crop, although they were quite scarce during the past few days. They are selling 40 cents a peck while the old potatoes retail at 35 cents a peck.

CELEBRATION IS TO BE VERY BIG
Footville Plans for the Greatest Celebration Ever Held in That Vicinity.
If tomorrow is a fine day fully two thousand people will go to Footville to attend the great annual reunion and picnic of the Footville association of pioneers and former residents. It will be the biggest kind of a celebration at which old and young will have their fill of enjoyment. Hundreds from the city are planning to go out for the exercises which begin almost at sunrise and will last until midnight, the closing feature being a grand ball. Special trains will take part of the crowds but the majority will arrive and the dinner is to be served in a huge field in spacious tents that have been provided for the occasion. It will be one of the greatest celebrations ever held in Rock county.

ROCKFORD GOLFERS COMING NEXT WEEK

Will Meet Janesville Players at Snippets Links on the 15th of July.

Unless present plans miscarry the Rockford Country club will meet the Janesville players on the Snippets links, Friday, July 15—a week from tomorrow. The annual games between the Forest and Bower city players have always attracted a large crowd of golf enthusiasts and it is probable that a large crowd of spectators will accompany the Rockford team to the city. A return game on the Rockford links will be played later in the season.

THREE NEW CITIZENS OF UNITED STATES

Adopted by Government Through Office of Clerk of Court Yesterday—American Simplicity.

Thomas Mallory Smith of Beloit, formerly Thomas Mulling, an Englishman and a graduate of Oxford, is now an American citizen. He made his declaration in 1880 and took out his second papers in the office of the court yesterday. The scribe "Smith" was added to his name on June 12, 1903, in order that he might comply with the will of a relative who left to him a portion of a large estate in England. The English authorities, however, are not yet satisfied with the simple American methods of changing names and want the signature of the governor of Wisconsin attached to the affidavit setting forth the fact that such change has been made. Mr. Smith says that the acquisition of a new name or citizenship, in United States is an easy and inexpensive process compared with the same proceeding across the water where an act of parliament involving an outlay of several thousand dollars on the part of the applicant is required. Claus Eriksen, a Norwegian took out his second papers yesterday. Likewise did Bernard F. Mills, a mixer and a native of Ireland. The two latter expect to register for their second agency drawing.

Snyder-McClure

A SOLDIER OF COMMERCE

CHAPTER XVII.

A TRAITOR TO THE CAUSE.

CAPTAIN ORSKOFF paced up and down the deck feverishly while the American ravenously ate his meal. Harvey, when he had finished, asked for a cigar.

"You are maddening!" said Orskoff as he handed the American a cigar. "One can see that you are not in love—not as I am."

"Sit down," said Harvey. They took chairs on deck.

"Getting excited is not going to help us any," said Harvey, putting at his cigar. "I am as eager as you to rescue the girls. The difference is that you, without any plans, want to rush off and probably involve us in greater trouble, while I wish to plan out a line of action. Now, that boat went somewhere on the Bohkharan coast—where, we do not know. The thing is to get what information we can out of the robbers."

"They would lie to us."

"I don't think the chief, Palpak, would lie. Except for my presence pected that it was done by some of the mountain robbers and mistrusted the Bohkharans. But we could never catch any."

"That's because you are a machine soldier. The third section of your police does not work that way."

"What way?"

"Without thinking. Pardon me, you insist it is your duty to go on once to Tiflis."

"Certainly, unless we can intercept that vessel belonging to the mineer."

"Suppose we do not intercept it? Suppose the rascals make a port in Bohkharan?"

"Then I must return to Tiflis and ask permission to enter the territory of the mineer in search of Koura."

Harvey looked at him and whistled.

"My friend, you accused me a short time ago of not loving as you do. Yet you sit calmly here and say you would go to Tiflis to ask permission to rescue the girl you claim to love."

"I am a soldier of the czar!"

"Verily you are, and well have you learned your lesson. I am a soldier of commerce, and love it, but I would consider neither trade nor honor nor citizenship against the chance of saving the girl I love. To the device with a patriotism that destroys love. Orskoff, do your duty! If you feel that it is your duty to take me and the robbers to Tiflis, do so, and forever bid farewell to Koura Barteklis."

"But what can I do? The girls are by this time perhaps on Bohkharan soil. It is against the orders of the czar for a Russian soldier to step foot in that country."

"Tiflis is several days' journey from here; Bohkharan but a short distance. Somewhere, in the clutches of the Bohkharans, are the girls you and I love. Your duty calls you to desert them in their need; mine calls upon me to die for them if necessary. Rather than let you take me back to Tiflis I'll fight you to the death."

Orskoff stared. Harvey turned and resumed his walk. He took several turns and closely watched Orskoff. The Russian was deeply thinking, his brow knitted in perplexity.

"Stop!" he commanded suddenly as Harvey reached him again. "You sell windmills. To no one save those who employ you do you owe allegiance. You come and go as you see fit. You are shrewd and brave and take your wares to all countries and run risks of death to promote the commercial interests of the company. You have spoken of your love. Under the whiplash of your tongue I am torn in halves with the bitterest conflict of my life. I have led my company in battle and have faced the enemy without a tremor, but that is nothing compared to the hell that is surging in my breast now. In me, in this breast, there is a conflict that overshadows anything in my experience."

"I don't understand," said Harvey.

"You would understand if you were a Russian officer and at the same time a man in love. Remember, I am performing my duty when I place you under arrest and take you back to Tiflis. You are a condemned prisoner who has escaped. With your innocence or guilt I have nothing to do. It is my duty to take those robbers to Tiflis, and it is not my duty to permit one of them to talk. Yet, as against this duty, the girl I love is in the hands of the Bohkharans. You, the man who is most wanted in Tiflis, and these robbers are the only men on earth who can help me. For, once the girls are on Bohkharan soil, I am helpless."

"Helpless?"

"I cannot stir regiments to cross the border. The order must come from St. Petersburg. By the time we got that order the girls will be married to the princes."

"That is what I have been striving to show you—the uselessness of your duty in this case. I claim your duty is to go after the girls."

"Impossible! There is a secret corps for such work. I am not a soldier once off Russian soil unless sent there."

"Who asked you to be a soldier? Come with me. Let us rescue the girls. Alma has really committed a crime, I suppose, but we must risk the danger of Tiflis. I'll take care of that part when we get the girls."

"You would try to escape—would even try to kill me to escape?"

"Nonsense. If you will assist in rescuing the girls and let Alma furnish escape, I will go back to Tiflis with you and take my medicine."

"You would risk death and disgrace for the girl you love?"

"Yes, I'd risk hell for the girl I love."

"That is love! That is love! It is as I feel myself. Let me think! What a problem for a man to solve!"

He abruptly left Harvey, who sat down, preferring to let Orskoff work out the problem himself. Orskoff paced gravely up and down, never once looking at Harvey.

"Have you a plan?" he asked suddenly, stopping before Harvey.

"Give me your answer to the problem you have set out to solve, and I will give you the plan I have thought of."

Again that monotonous pacing up and down the deck. It seemed to Irons as though the Russian was growing older looking each moment. Again the feverish eyes and working lips. It came to an end at last. With a sigh as if exhausted Orskoff dropped into the chair by the side of Irons.

"Well, I have fought the fight," he said wearily.

"And won?" asked Harvey.

"No; God knows it's no victory! I have lost. My patriotism goes down before my love. I am a Russian. I know the Russian crucifies to those who defy the czar. I know the pitiless rule that breaks the hearts and destroys the lives of those who even permit a culprit to escape. Knowing this—knowing the punishment, the disgrace, the horror of treachery—I have resolved to become a traitor!"

"A traitor! What nonsense!"

"Yes, a traitor to the czar! You and I will soon be under the same condemnation. We will go together to the very throne of Bohkharan if necessary and rescue those we love or die in the attempt. It is settled. I will not turn back!"

TO KILL THE DANDRUFF GERM.

Is the Only Possible Way of Having An Effective Cure.

If you see a woman or a man with luxuriant glossy hair, you may be sure neither has dandruff to amount to anything.

In nearly every case where women and men have thin brittle hair, they own it to dandruff. There are hundreds of preparations that "claim" to cure dandruff, but not one but Newbro's Herpicide tells you that dandruff is the result of a germ burrowing into the scalp, and that permanent cure of dandruff and its consequent falling and baldness, can only be had by killing the germ; and there is no other preparation that will destroy the germ but Newbro's Herpicide. "Destroy the cause, and you remove the effect." Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., People's Drug Co. and King's Pharmacy, Special Agents.

"Stop!" he commanded suddenly. The other robbers would have killed him, and he must feel some gratitude.

"But these fellows are shrewd. We could do nothing with them unless we granted them their freedom."

"And that, of course, you would not do."

"No! I am an officer of the czar!"

"What do you intend to do with us?"

"It is my duty to return to Tiflis with you and give you over to the authorities."

"Just so. You are one of these machine made soldiers so common in Russia—fight for the czar and die for yourself. Is that it? No; that isn't quite right—fight and die for the czar and to the devil with yourself; that's more like it. Let's look over the premises. Take my own case in a business sense. I don't know where my windmills are. They were taken to Astrakhan by that fool of a German. Well, supposing I was at liberty to go after them, the first thing I would do would be to outline a plan of getting as quickly as possible from where I am at this moment to the spot where I considered it most likely I would find them."

"I don't see the connection."

"No, of course not. But tell me—what is your duty in the matter of these robbers?"

"I have already stated that. I must take them to Tiflis and charge them with robbery. Several times the officers in charge of the money to pay the soldiers have been robbed. We sus-

GOOD NEWS FOR MOTHERS AND DAUGHTERS.

How often do we see a naturally beautiful face marred by wrinkles, blackheads, blotches and pimples, caused in the majority of cases by inactivity of the pores of the skin? These minute openings fail or are unable to perform their natural functions, hence the skin is disfigured.

We are pleased to say that the new remedy Paracamp makes the skin soft, smooth and healthy, by creating a natural activity in the pores.

When applied, Paracamp opens the pores, stimulates circulation, removes congestion and any inflammation by inducing perspiration. It draws out the impurities and removes Black-heads, Pimples, Blotches, etc., in a perfectly safe and sure manner.

If applied freely to the face twice a day, morning and night, and rubbed in well, then covered with a hot towel for two or three minutes, it will not only cool and soothe but remove the troubles and impart a healthy peach-bloom glow to the skin that will please even the

...THE... TWINE QUESTION

D. M. Barlass Gives Inter- esting Facts About Twine and Prices.

At this season of the year almost every farmer has more or less twine to buy. In the buying of that twine the experienced farmer considers quality first and price afterward.

As in other goods, the price of twine varies with the quality. You can buy a cheap twine, usually heme, at 7 to 12 cents. We experimented with some of the cheaper twine last year and had to send back over 1000 pounds of it.

Cheap Twine and mail order twine you will invariably find is of an inferior quality, weighs 47 lbs. or less to the bale, and measures about 470 feet to the pound.

Standard Twine--such as Plymouth and McCormick--is of the highest quality, weighs over 50 lbs. to the bale, and measures 550 feet to the pound.

You can send away for your twine or get it here. If you send away you may pay less, but you get less and YOU pay the freight--therefore it costs more. If you get your twine of us, you will get Standard Plymouth or McCormick Twine, full weight, full length, at 12 cents the pound, and WE pay the freight.

You can get your Twine here just as cheap as you can get it anywhere. We Meet All Prices. Get your Twine order in early.

HO! FOR ST. LOUIS

Special Daylight Coach Excursion From Janesville July 25th to the World's Fair...

$28.00

Pays All Expenses For Eight Days.

The best opportunity to visit the World's Fair at a moderate outlay and in the most comfortable manner. All expenses are covered in the $28.00 charge for eight days. AN IDEAL TIME FOR MAKING YOUR VISIT TO THE FAIR.

THE WISCONSIN OUTING CLUB has now perfected arrangements for a visit to the World's Fair, St. Louis, by which we can offer to our friends and patrons more real pleasure and comfort than can be obtained, for the money, in any other way.

We have established a white city within two blocks of a main entrance to the Fair Grounds and on an elevation that overlooks the exposition. Our camp is on the same block as the Epworth League Hotel and only one square from three of the best street car lines in the city.

The tents were made from double filled heavy army duck by one of the best manufacturers in the country and are warranted not to leak. They have 6 ft. walls and each tent has four bedrooms and a hall. They have wooden floors, are carpeted, and each bedroom has full sized double bed, iron bedstead, good springs, wool mattress, blankets, etc. All brand new and furnished by Marshall Field of Chicago. We have arranged to serve breakfasts at our camp, then lunch and 6 o'clock dinners at the Palace Du Costume Cafe, one of the very best on the grounds. This will enable all who so desire to enter the grounds right after breakfast and remain there until closing time, 11:30 P. M. This arrangement will add much to the pleasure of our guests for the memory of an evening spent on the Pike will remain through life like the fragments of Moore's Rose Vase:

"You may break, you may shatter the vase if you will,

The scent of the roses will hang round it still."

Our plan does away with the necessity for street cars to and from the grounds which at a time when most needed are always the most crowded.

We are now arranging a special daylight excursion from Janesville July 25th. Tickets good on ANY ROAD between Chicago and St. Louis. We would advise taking the morning train from Chicago so that you may reach our camp in time for supper.

On arrival at Union Station, St. Louis, take car on 18th street, north to Olive Street, then transfer to car marked DELMAR GARDEN. Our camp is one block S. W. from entrance to Delmar Garden.

THE $28.00 RATE PAYS FOR

1. All railroad fare from Janesville to St. Louis and return.
2. All street car fare from Union Station, St. Louis, to our White City and return.
3. Transfer of self and baggage in Chicago.
4. All baggage transfers in St. Louis.
5. Three meals at camp on Sunday.
6. All breakfasts at our camp while in St. Louis.
7. All lunches and six o'clock dinners on the Fair grounds.
8. Daily admissions to the grounds.
